The American Board of Pathology Announces the American Association of Neuropathologists as a Cooperating Society

TAMPA, Fla., (December 06, 2022) The Trustees of the American Board of Pathology (ABPath) are pleased to announce that the American Association of Neuropathologists (AANP) has been approved as a Cooperating Society of the ABPath. The addition of AANP as an ABPath Cooperating Society was approved at the Fall 2022 ABPath Board of Trustees meeting.

The American Association of Neuropathologists, Inc., is a professional society of neuropathologists, composed of physicians and scientists involved in research, training, and the clinical practice of neuropathology whose mission is to advance the study of diseases that affect the nervous system, and to minimize suffering through discovery, education, and the delivery of patient-centered clinical care.

ABPath collaborates with its Cooperating Societies to identify and address issues of importance to the profession of pathology. Through these valuable relationships, Cooperating Societies support diplomates in their life-long learning and improvement in practice, their participation in Continuing Certification, and documenting their participation in educational and quality assessment activities. Cooperating Societies of the ABPath also serve in an advisory capacity to the Board regarding issues pertaining to training, education, and certification in Pathology. The Trustees seek input and advice from Cooperating Societies on an ad hoc basis and at the annual spring meeting of the Board of Trustees. The Trustees also solicit nominees from the Cooperating Societies for candidates to fill open Trustee positions.

The current Cooperating Societies of the American Board of Pathology are:

- Academy of Clinical Laboratory Physicians and Scientists
- American Medical Association Pathology Section Council
- American Society for Clinical Pathology
- American Society of Cytopathology
- American Society for Investigative Pathology
- Association of Directors of Anatomic and Surgical Pathology
- Association for Molecular Pathology

Association of Pathology Chairs
Association for the Advancement of Blood and Biotherapies
College of American Pathologists
National Association of Medical Examiners
Society for Hematopathology
Society for Pediatric Pathology
United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology

About the American Board of Pathology

The mission of the American Board of Pathology, as a member of the American Board of Medical Specialties, is to serve the public and advance the profession of pathology by setting certification standards and promoting lifelong competency of pathologists. Founded in 1936, the ABPath accomplishes this mission by establishing certification and continuing certification standards and assessing the qualifications of those seeking to obtain voluntary certification in the specialty of pathology.
