Membership Survey

Each fall, the AANP requests that members complete the Annual Membership Survey which launched on October 11, 2019. We request that all AANP members participate as the results inform future educational offerings at the Annual Meeting. The survey also helps to facilitate documentation of areas of educational need which is a requirement of the accreditation board, the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME).

95th Annual Meeting Review

The AANP 95th Annual Meeting in Atlanta this past June set a record for attendance with over 420 attendees! The meeting was a wonderful opportunity for colleagues, trainees and leaders in the field of neuropathology to catch up with old friends and make new connections. The Annual Meeting ran from Thursday, June 6th through Sunday, June 9th, 2019, leading off with the Thursday Special Course and closing with Sunday's Presidential Symposium. Platform sessions, Named Lectures and poster viewing occurred on Friday and Saturday.

On Thursday, June 6th, 2019, the meeting opened with the Special Course: Unintended Consequences: The Iatrogenic Neuropathology of Systemic Therapies, which was organized by . R. Ross Reichard, MD and Maria Martinez-Lage, MD, PhD. The AANP was pleased to welcome such a captivating faculty lineup.

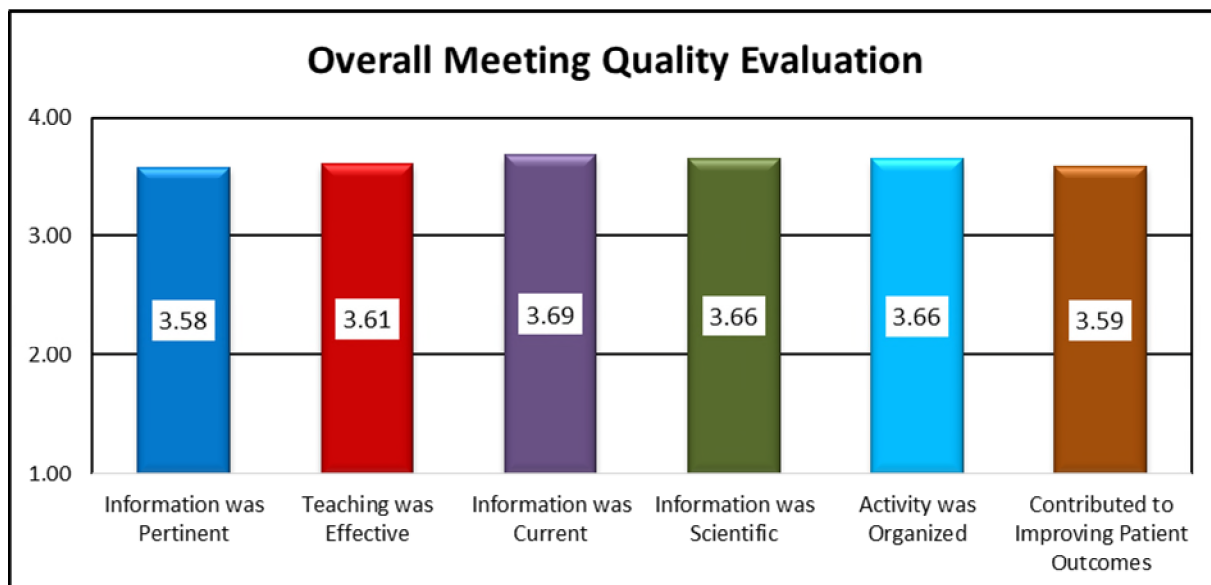

The meeting's Named Lectures were spaced from Friday through Sunday and were presented by engaging faculty. The Parisi Lecture led off on Friday with Beth Stevens, PhD of Boston Children's Hospital and Harvard Medical School presenting Microglia Function and Dysfunction in Neurologic Disease. Later that afternoon, Alison Goate, D.Phil of Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai presented the DeArmond Lecture, Rare and Common Genetic Variation Implicate Microglial Function in Alzheimer's Disease Risk. The Korey Lecture, Approaching the Challenge of Determining Mechanism Through Neuropathology occurred on Saturday, presented by Jean Paul Vonsattel, MD of Columbia University. The final Name Lecture, the Moore Lecture, Rapid and Holistic 3D Imaging of Large-scale Tissues, occurred on Sunday and was presented by Kwanghun Chung, PhD of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Saturday also hosted the What Every Neuropathologist Needs to Know Lectures: Muscle presented by Steven Moore, MD, PhD of the University of Iowa and Nerve presented by Peter Pytel, MD of the University of Chicago.

On Saturday evening, the Diagnostic Slide Session, hosted by Caterina Giannini, MD, PhD, DSS Moderator, and Rebecca Folkerth, MD, DSS Manager, also occurred. This was a big year for the DSS as it marked 60 years since the DSS was first established! Arie Perry, MD introduced the session with his rendition of The DSS Tonight, adapted by Joseph Parisi, MD. The 2019 DSS Protocols can be viewed here.

Closing out the meeting, the Presidential Symposium: New Ways to Look at the Brain – What Can Neuropathologists See, was directed by Matthew P. Frosch, MD, PhD and included engaging faculty consisting of Matthew P. Frosch, MD, PhD; Edward Boyden, PhD; and Jean Augustinack, PhD.

Based on the aggregate evaluation data from attendees, the 95th Annual Meeting was well-received as highlighted by the ratings of the six questions assessing the participants' evaluations of the quality of the Annual Meeting. The figure below displays these results and shows that all ratings were consistently high, which indicates that participants felt that (1) the information presented was pertinent to their professional needs, (2) the teaching and learning methods were effective, (3) the information presented was current, (4) the information was presented in a fair and balanced manner with scientific rigor, (5) the activity was well organized and managed, and (6) the content contributes valuable information that will assist in improving patient outcomes (Response scale ranges from "1-Strongly Disagree" to "4-Strongly Agree"). Additionally, participants indicated that this activity was free from commercial bias (100%).

Constitution & Bylaws Committee

The following provides a high-level overview of proposed amendments to the Bylaws that were presented at the 2018 Annual Business Meeting and approved the Fall of 2018. The current Constitution and Bylaws are posted on the website for further review.

- Amendments to the By-Laws- Article 5: Duties of the Officers
 - Section 5.1, President: Remove the phrase, “the Nominating Committee and the Chair of”

Rationale: Current process includes the Education Committee and not the Nominating Committee (re: Named Lectures)
- Amendments to the By-Laws – Article 6: Committees
 - Section 6.7, Membership Committee: Update the term to 1 year, renewable for two additional terms.

Rationale: A three-year term limit would ensure continuity on the Membership Committee

The amendments were approved by membership on November 20, 2018 with the required two-thirds affirmative votes received electronically (Article 1, Section 1.2).

Professional Affairs

The Professional Affairs Committee presented the 2018 AANP Membership Survey results at the Annual Business Meeting on June 8, 2019. A total of 116 individuals responded to the Fall 2018 AANP Membership Survey.

Annual Membership Survey Overview:

- Goal: base educational offerings on data collected from the membership
- ACCME-driven requirement for CME
- Assess and document professional practice gaps, educational needs of membership
- Results utilized for topic areas for future annual meetings
- Education Committee meetings and prior evaluations/surveys lead to survey content

The Education Committee was previously an ad-hoc committee under the Professional Affairs Committee. Now that the Education Committee is a stand-alone committee, it is solely responsible for development of the clinical assertion statements which make-up the majority of the Annual Membership Survey. The Professional Affairs Committee will focus on changes and trends in the practice of neuropathology, as is needed. The Fall 2019 Membership Survey launched on October 11th, 2019. Survey responses are anonymous. We ask that all AANP members please complete the survey by November 8th, 2019.

Website Committee

The Website Committee continues to manage the website created for the AANP and had a busy 2019 year! The Committee intends to maintain and implement several plans in 2020.

Highlights from the past year include:

- Nearly 150,000 more hits on the AANP homepage from 2018 to 2019
- Job and fellowship postings added and regularly updated
- Implementation of Referred-Based Access Control for JNEN
- Social media as of June 2019:
 - 3,393 followers on Facebook
 - 2,274 followers on Twitter
 - 394 followers on LinkedIn
 - 988,719 pages views of Dr. Brian Moore's Neuropathology Blog
 - Neuropathology presence on YouTube

Future Plans:

- Learning Management System
- Diagnostic Slide Session Long-Term Plan

Make certain to visit the website regularly, www.neuropath.org, as it is continually updated with pertinent AANP information!

Self-Assessment Modules: The Education Committee diligently works to plan and implement new SAMs. There are currently 16 journal-based SAMs available, with six being offered for RCPSC Section III MOC Credit (CANP approved). There are also seven, 2019 Annual Meeting SAMs. Please note that the Annual Meeting SAMs are only available to those individuals who attended the 95th Annual Meeting and will no longer be available after November 30, 2019. There are several more SAMs in development and an e-mail announcement will be sent once they become available. Additionally, the Education Committee will continue to offer the option to purchase the SAMs bundle for unlimited access to SAMs. To purchase the 2020 SAMs bundle, ensure to select this option during your 2020 Membership Renewal, beginning on November 1, 2019.

As highlighted in May 2019, the AANP is engaged in the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) and American Board of Pathology (ABPath) collaboration which means that the AANP reports information about diplomates completion of self-assessment modules (SAMs) to the ABPath via the ACCME Program and Activity Reporting System (PARS). Diplomates must have an ABPath PATHway account set-up before they can be matched to submitted PARS records. Further, diplomates must ensure that their Dayspring profile is up-to-date with their ABPath diplomate ID and birth month and year. A pathologist can find their ABPath ID by logging into their PATHway account and viewing their My Profile page.

To access the Self-Assessment Modules, follow this link.

Additional News:

The highly anticipated 60th Annual Diagnostic Slide Session was held on the evening of Saturday, June 8, 2019 at the 95th Annual Meeting. Eleven cases were presented, chosen from 39 submissions covering a vast array of pathology including neoplastic, vascular, muscle, nerve, developmental, infectious and neurodegenerative disorders. Neuropathology trainees, including one medical student, presented all eleven cases.

The Diagnostic Slide Session set to be held at the 96th Annual Meeting in Monterey, California, will be held on Saturday, June 13th, 2020 at 8:00 pm. The deadline for submissions for the 2020 Annual Meeting is Friday, January 10th, 2020. Acceptance of cases for the 2020 DSS will be communicated in early February 2020.

How to Submit a Case:

Please submit the following to Caterina Giannini:

- Brief clinical summary and key diagnostic points outlined in short PowerPoint or Word document.
- Single representative H&E stained, and one unstained slides sent via mail
- PLEASE write: EDUCATIONAL – DSS-2020 Submission

Please let the moderator know if the submitted case has sufficient tissue to prepare glass slides for the “glass slide boxes.” Small biopsies of interest are also welcome for consideration and will be posted using virtual microscopy.
